The indoor track and field season has finally started for non-university based athletes..... and the HOC has been busy sending runners, jumpers and throwers to compete in the offered meets.

At the Ontario Legion Championship held at York University on Saturday, January 25, most of the participants surpassed the marks that they had set last year indoors.

In the midget girls age group, Madison Johnstone participated in the 800m race (2:31.15), finishing with the silver medal, while earning the bronze medal in the 1200m run (3:57.72). Following closely behind, Kaitlyn Lynch was fourth in the 800m (2:34.36) and seventh in the 1200m (4:10.82) – a new event for her. Maddy Sinnamon also earned a bronze medal, as she leapt 4.75m in the long jump.

Alec Purnell, in the midget boys division, came home with a bronze medal in the 800m (2:13.00), while running a huge personal best of 40.81sec, to come ninth in the 300m sprint.

The youth-aged girls had Jenna Smith take a bronze medal in the 400m (60.07sec) and eighth place in the 800m (2:30.36). She also went 1.40 m in the high jump, where she was placed fourth (one more miss than the third place girl who also cleared 1.40m). Racing closely with her, Chloe Hewitt was fifth in the 800m (2:29.23), while coming ninth in the 400m (62.82sec). In her first Legion meet, Brittany Stenekes was fourth in the 60m Hurdles (9.33sec) and fifth in the long jump (4.94m).

As usual, the depth in the youth-aged boys events was quite deep. Erik Heidebrecht had an impressive time in the 800m (2:02.87) where he posted a fifth place finish.
